

01 Split a split at Eathouse Diner
 Why order eggs when you can have ice cream? This Redfern café does a banana split with dulce de leche and a little umbrella. If you venture into the toilets, you'll see the walls thoroughly decoupage'd with nudie pics. 306 Chalmers St, Redfern 2016. (02 8084 9479 eathousediner.com.au).

02 Try a baking lesson at Brasserie Bread, then sit down to sourdough pancakes and honeycomb cream at their café

After a hard morning's kneading, slapping, punching and digging, you'll have worked up quite the appetite. Squash it with a big ol' pile of hotcakes. 1737 Botany Rd, Banksmeadow 2019. (1300 966 845 www.brasseriebread.com.au).

03 Experiment with a pour-over coffee at Mecca's new Ultimo branch

Mecca have opened a new café just down the road from the Powerhouse Museum. It's here that you can try 'pour-over coffee' – the filter coffee craze that's got Melbourne all of a dither. Want to know more? Turn to page 58 for the full story. Mecca Espresso, 646 Harris St, Ultimo 2007. (02 9280 4204 meccaespresso.com).

04 Take a blindfolded cupping class at Campos

Learn to appreciate coffee with your eyes closed in a dark room in the new cupping room at Campos. You'll learn more than you ever thought possible. Then you can bore your friends with every minor detail of your experience with single origin Ethiopian coffee beans! It's coffee for fetishists. 193 Missenden Rd, Newtown 2042. (02 9516 3361 www.camposcoffee.com).

05

Order a soft-shell crab omelette at Café Ish.
 82 Campbell St, Surry Hills 2010. (02 9281 1688).

06 Line up for a ristretto at Grind after a surf
 The queues are snaking out the door and with good reason – this could be the best coffee in Cronulla. The café is the size of a bug catcher and most of it is taken up by a titanic coffee machine that gets thrashed day in, day out. 6 Surf Rd, Cronulla 2230. (02 9568 5535 www.grindespresso.com).
