delicious. regular Tobie Puttock and Fifteen may have called it a day, but this Melbourne chef hasn't stepped away from training troubled kids – in fact, he's cast a wider net, kickstarting The Stepping Stone Foundation and calling on friends George Calombaris (The Press Club) and Frank Camorra (Movida) to open their kitchens to a handful of new trainees this year. Tobie's putting his heart on the plate at his new trattoria, too. The Kitchen Cat, on the old Fifteen site, offers a best-hits list of Italian classics, with old-school favourites such as spaghetti and meatballs, milk-fed veal cutlet and bistecca fiorentina. Gather a group together for a whole suckling pig straight off the rotisserie, or come for an aperitivo and a plate of housemade charcuterie (the salami should be just about ready to eat by the time you read this). Basement, 115-117 Collins St, Melbourne, 1300 799 415. Sarah Lewis

CHERRY ON TOP

Use these Kirsch-soaked wild Morello cherries to top vanilla bean ice cream or try dipping the luscious orbs into melted dark chocolate for a sophisticated adults-only treat. $11.95. For stockists, tel: (03) 9872 3945.

HOT STUFF

Here at delicious., we couldn't resist these instantly gratifying hot cross buns from Sydney's Brasserie Bread ($11 for a 6-pack), nor their equally tempting chocolate and sour cherry counterparts ($15 for a 6-pack). Visit: brasseriebread.com.au.
